Detailed Action

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Imamura et al. (EPN 549 814 A1).

3. Regarding Claims 1-17, Imamura et al. shows (Figs. 1 and 2) head stack assembly (ASSY) for a disc drive including a storage disc (D), the head stack assembly comprising an actuator arm (A), a coarse positioner that moves the actuator arm relative to the storage disk (SM), a transducer assembly (Fig. 7A) including a load beam (Fig. 3, (2)), a flexure (3) secured to the load beam, a data transducer (Fig. 5, (MT)) secured to the flexure (3), a base plate (Fig. 4A, (1)) securing the transducer assembly to the actuator arm (A), and a fine positioner (piezoelectric elements, (14)) secured directly to the base plate, the fine positioner moving a portion of the base plate relative to the actuator arm, wherein the base plate further comprises a positioner cavity (Fig. 4B, (12a)) that receives the fine positioner (14), a flex section (Fig. 5, (12)) positioned adjacent to the positioner cavity, the flex section allowing the base plate to flex, a pair of spaced apart positioner cavities (Fig. 4B, (12a)) that receive the fine positioner (14), a pair of flex sections (Fig. 5, (12)) that allow the base plate to flex, wherein the positioner cavities are positioned between the flex sections, wherein the flex sections are positioned between the positioner cavities, wherein the fine positioner moves the transducer assembly substantially transversely relative to the actuator arm (Fig. 28), further comprising a control system (Col. 2, lns. 24-35) that directs current to the coarse positioner to move the actuator arm so that the data transducer is positioned near or on the target track and directs current to the fine positioner to selectively move the base plate so that the data transducer is positioned and maintained on the target track during rotation of the storage disk, wherein the fine positioner is a piezoelectric motor (14).

4. Regarding Claims 18-21, are drawn to a method of retrieving data from a target track on a rotating storage disk of a disk drive using the aforementioned apparatus. The limitations of the method claims are met and are anticipated by Imamura et al. when the apparatus operates.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Zhang et al. (USPN 6,396,667) is cited to show a disk drive with a microactuator and suspension system.
